ON Friday we were cruising when we met these people so we cruised and hung out.

Alexandra

I told my auntie that I wanted to spend the night at my grandma's house. So she said
"yeah." I didn't like lying to my auntie which I did so I could go to the party.

2 year sentence for alcohol buyer

Over 40% of 8th graders had an alcoholic drink last year.

Approximately 10 million 12-20 year olds have had a drink in the past month.

Of those drinking, nearly 6.8 million were binge drinkers and 2.1 million were heavy drinkers.

My Brother
Gave us our alcohol

Ask an adult

Betty

That weekend I went with my friend telling my mom that our softball team was going to have a sleep over. She believed me. When I was picked up I was really excited because this was the first real party I was going to.

Susan

It all started when I was in 8th grade. I was in a new place, new school, new home, even a new me, so I just became a rebel.

Shane

I'm getting ready about 8pm, curling my hair, putting on my make-up, and dressing to match. Call my friend to see if she is ready.

Juan

Friday and Saturday nights are the best nights of the week for teens. The work starts out in the day trying to get the money and a buyer that won't rip you off. The other hardest thing is trying to find a house

Dan

It is not hard to get alcohol if you're a teen. Everyone knows someone who will buy them alcohol.

Ed

I called my brother and asked him if he could "pull out" for me and he said it was alright. We met him back at parking lot and he gave us our alcohol that he purchased for us. He told both of us to be careful and we left.

Jesus

If I want to party and also get drunk I will ask an adult that I may know to get us or me alcohol

ESSAYS THAT NIGHT

Renee
The last party I went to was last weekend and there was drinking. It was just graduates and high schoolers drinking. We don't let junior high kids party with us no more because they are too immature.

Hewett
We just drove around the area. At one point I remember my friend throwing up out the window. I started to fall asleep but as always everyone was drinking up. So I decided to have a few more drinks. I knew it would get to me but I didn't care, it was BEER. I looked around and I remember we were driving on the wrong side of the road. I told her and she just started laughing. It is just a good feeling to be drunk and not have a care in the world about what tomorrow would be like. I had fun and I know I will continue to do so

JD
When I first started going to parties I was 9 years old. There was all kinds of alcohol. The person who bought it was our friend, Jay. I drank two beers that night.

Jennifer
So I went to this house on Friday night and everybody was drinking except for me, so I felt kind of left out, and I guess they were just drinking for the fun of it, so I decided to start drinking.

Carl
Then we had a contest of who can drink or finish their bottle all completely first. My friends finished about 45 seconds before I did but I couldn't drink as fast as I wanted. For some strange reason we didn't pass out and for fun, we rode ATV's. This one guy

West Mesa pg. 4 Sonia
 There are so many different images for alcoholism these days, like commercials. You look sexy if you’re holding a beer or it’s cool if you’re drinking.

Seth
 All the minors got so drunk they started doing stupid things. A girl would leave with a guy not telling anybody and who knows what they did.

Ashley
 We ended up having sex in his car. I didn’t realize what I’d done until a little while after we returned back to the dance. AS the alcohol wore off, I grew angry with myself.

Thena
 I like to drink at some points, but I go for the flavors. I really don’t get down with the real hard liquor.

Patty
 I asked where she went and they told me she left with a guy. I got so scared. I heard a lot of noise. Then I saw her staggering toward us. She was laughing. She told me she slept with the guy.

In New Mexico 44% of all fatal crashes in 2000 involved alcohol.

The research indicates that youth who drink frequently come from families who drink frequently.

Women metabolize alcohol differently than men and will reach higher peak blood alcohol levels drinking the same amount as men.

Over 3000 people were injured in DWI rashes during 2000 in New Mexico.

201 people died in alcohol related crashes statewide in 2001.

My once close friend, was found fifteen feet from the car..... If alcohol wasn’t in his system, or consumed by the people around him, my friend would still be here today.

Mark
What if we all were killed, even the most horrific thing, what if I lived and all of them died. Would their parents forgive me, will my parents forgive me?

Betty
When my friend had told me it’s time to drink but I was scared so I didn’t. But my friend had started to drink and she got really bad and started to throw up. Later that night she passed away because she had too many shots. I wish we had not gone so she could have graduated. I have to live with this forever...for the rest of my life.

Maybe this is one of the reasons people say don’t drink. It is like there is another person inside of you that comes out. This person is the very bad person and it’ll make you do thing you would never dream of doing when you are sober.

people become loud and talkative.....and talkative people become quiet and observant.

I'm sure most parents know exactly what I'm saying. Come on now, you all were once teenagers. You all have experienced a taste of what we go through. You all know what happens at parties.

BUT, it's one's own choice. We all choose what we take into our bodies.

Drunkiness, hooking up, sex, fights, drunken rage, being too happy.... then sickness, throwing up, the hang over, the feeling of unmorality.

"I'll never do this again." Yeah, right. They'll be doing it again next weekend.

CREDIT AND ADDITIONAL INFORMATION

Robert

I grabbed the bottle, closer and closer, it went to my lips, I could feel the rim of the bottle against my lips, I could taste it, I felt it going down my throat, I could hear my name being praised and chanted among them, then I heard the car door open, a hand graped the back of my shirt yanked me out, a shut the door, i looked up and it was my older cousin, he pulled me to my feet, yelling at me, threw me in his car and took me home.....I don't really see my so-called friends any more, when ever I do there either drunk, or pissed off cause they can't get drunk.

Melissa

I don't drink. I have been asked mre than a dozen times to try it, "you'll really like it," "it makes you feel good." Yes, it's very hard to say no, but I know what's right for me and also what it can do later on, the addictive part of it. I don't have to drink and get drunk to have fun.

Dave

I hung around for a few hours and went home. They asked me if I wanted a ride, but I said I'll walk home instead.

Darren

From my point of view I think they do it because they think it is a cool experience and they think that it is the only way to fit in with a group.

I also know that some of my friends and relatives abuse alcohol because that's the only way to get their minds off of worries or stress. Most of these worries are because of lack of love, lack of communication with parents, maybe there is a lost one in the family, or the parents have separated. This causes them to think that life is not worth living, therefore they turn to alcohol to get rid of worries.

Kiki

My pals were trying anxiously to make me have a drink but I thought no, it's not me. So I told them no thanks, I'll be the safety driver.

Lea

It was a Friday and I wanted to go some place and do something instead of just staying home. So I asked my mom if I could use the truck, she let me without hesitation. //Later, when the dance was over, a couple of my friends went with me in my truck and followed others to a party. At first they were playing pool and watching TV, then later they started to bring out the alcohol. Everyone drank and asked me if I wanted some. They know that I never drink so they were all watching to see if I was going to drink. I didn't feel any pressure because they didn't really force it on me. They just wanted to see if I would. All that I did was look at the drink and smelled it then passed it back. I wasn't about to try something that could ruin my life. And I didn't want to look and act stupid.

West Mesa pg. 9 Anna

. I talk to them and they're like, "you want to go party?" And I'm like, "no, it's okay, I have family things to do," and it's not worth it. It's just like... ///// And like my friends are like, "oh, well, why don't you want to go?" It's like, "well, because look what it's done to everybody. Look what it's doing to people and you could just kill you and mess up your whole lives."
